For industrial oil applications, RUGGED Precision Industrial oils are high quality oils having effective wear protection properties and good oxidation resistance. Precision Industrial Oils are available in six viscosity ranges to meet most equipment specifications. While primarily used as industrial hydraulic oil, these oils can serve many other uses. These include general-purpose machine and circulating oil applications, compressor lubrication, air line oils, and many other applications.

RUGGED Drip Oil

RUGGED Drip Oil is light colored premium anti-wear oil made from paraffin distillate stocks with excellent stability. In addition to the effective anti-wear additives, it is rust and oxidation inhibited and contains a select anti-foam additive.

RUGGED Drip Oil has a natural high viscosity index and a low pour point to accommodate the most severe of temperature ranges.
